beach immediately and joined in the search.

In the tent they found only Mrs. McPherson's beach cloak or wrap, a box of candy, some books and a pocket comb. It was discovered that she apparently had not worn the wrap to the water's edge, as the water was cold.

At 10:30 a.m. the Santa Monica police summoned Fred Hoyt, an aviator, who flew his plane at some height back and forth over the water, but could not locate her.

Later another unidentified person called the manager of the Ocean View Hotel and said Mrs. McPherson had seen him at the Monica pier. A hurried search there failed to verify the report.

Police officers and life guards began patrolling the beach for any signs of a body floating on the water.

The beach was practically deserted at the time Mrs. McPherson went into the water. So far as the police could determine, the only persons who saw her go into the water besides her secretary and the unidentified couple, was Frank L. Lanning, proprietor of the Ocean View Hotel, and the water was so smooth he paid no attention to her swimming and did not notice her disappearance until it was reported by the secretary.

At the Angelus Temple, where Mrs. McPherson had been giving a series of illustrated talks on her trip to the Holy Land, 1,000 persons had gathered inside the temple to hear her talk last night, which was to have been the last of the series.

Although there had been no public announcement of Mrs. McPherson's disappearance, the news of its spread as though an invisible specter had stalked among the faithful and whispered it.

WORSHIERS SUBDUD

As they sat in their seats in the faintly audible echo, they sat here and there. In the corridors that customarily rang with "welcome brother," and "welcome sister" and other happy greetings, all were subdued.

The young women ushers clad in white strove heroically to keep up a front but almost invariably as they went to the back of the temple, the desire to return to the sofa rooms, there to give vent with sobs and tears to the grief overwhelming them.

"Not one word was said before the services admitting that the shepherd had not come back. Even while men sobbed aloud the phrase was often repeated: 'Almae will come back to her temple.'

Brother Dicky, one of the evangelist's right-hand followers, walked up and down the corridor his eyes filled with tears which he could not hold back with the tickle of his trembling hands.

Up and down, praying, walking, hoping, kneeling, members of the congregation kept saying: "Almae will come back to her temple."

MOTHER LEADS SERVICE

But with the arrival of time for opening the services the pastor had not returned. Mother Kennedy, clad in white, stepped up on the platform and took her daughter off the night before. Seated on the platform was Roberta Star Semple, Mrs. McPherson's 17-year-old daughter, attired in the uniform from the Holy Land, which Mrs. McPherson had worn the night before.

The services were opened with a prayer and a hymn. Without mentioning the disappearance of her mother, the pastor valiantly took up the talk, which was illustrated with slides. Here and there, the echo continued.

Toward the close of the lecture, Mrs. McPherson's name was mentioned into the announcement of the apparent tragedy. She told how hard it had been to stand there and talk on the subject "which only sister could have dictated to you as you should say it." Almae has been raised by God. She started here when we didn't have a temple. And she went from post to post, collecting friends to stand here to build this beautiful temple.

BORN IN CANADA

Mrs. McPherson was born in Canada, daughter of a farmer. Her mother had been a Salvation Army worker, and contributed her interest in evangelistic work so that the child was brought up in an atmosphere of religious fervor. She had a career. At 17 years of age she was converted by Robert Semple, brazier, by trade and traveling evangelist by avocation, and soon after married him. They went with him on a mission to China.

Disappears at Venice

Mrs. McPherson was born in China, a daughter was born to the pair and Semple died of a fever. His widow and the child moved to the United States where, after a time, she married Harold McPherson, employee of a New England wholesale grocery house. They had one child. Mrs. McPherson turned to time to time conducted temperance services, her husband making at first no strong objection and even joining her for a time, but this eventually led to the parting. Mrs. McPherson obtained a divorce on grounds of desertion.

A few years of wandering, in which she visited nearly every state in the Union and conducted meetings, led her to the United States, where, after a time, she married Robert Semple, a recent European tour and conducted many meetings there.

In her work in Los Angeles Mrs. McPherson became popular and later the antipathy of the local clergy. Rev. Bob Shuler preached several sermons aimed at her teaching, and indeed many have been read this town or for one moment day or night, since it was erected.

At the mention of her name, the public broke out anew over the temple.

The mother then continued, telling of the ever-present thoughts of Mrs. McPherson for her flock.

NEWS BROKEN

"Miss Shafer came over to the house and asked Almae to go to the beach," said Mrs. Kennedy. "I went about my work, but this afternoon was wondering about Almae when Brother (a member of the congregation) came into the house and called up to me by name. He said: 'God bless you. I don't know how to tell you. Sister went swimming this afternoon at twenty minutes to three. And she hasn't come back.'

"We know she is with Jesus," the mother continued. "Pray for her."

"As these words fell from her lips a mean of grief, as it uttered by one person, arose from those seated in the temple. It was echoed by those who were gathered outside, unable to crowd into the temple.

It was the first spoken word telling that the shepherd would not come back.

But out in the night under the stars, sand, moon and life guards tramped the sands at the water's edge hunting. They were joined by members of the congregation, some of whom also hunted while others prayed.

The auditorium was early supplied with a radio broadcasting outfit, by which the evangelist reached many more people with her message than were able to find seats in her auditorium.

She was aided by her work by her mother, known as "Mother" Kennedy, who took charge of the church after her recent European tour and conducted many meetings there.

Thousands Sob in Unison as Loss of Leader is Announced, and Offer Prayers for Her Return While Evangalist's Mother Consoles With Christian Fortitude

Angelus Temple has seen much suffering as followers of the McPherson doctrine have sought relief from pain through the teachings of the evangelist, but last night's tragedy was the first blow that has struck the temple as a whole, and a pall of sorrow hung over the edifice at Morn.

When the news of the death of the leader reached the congregation, the first report of the death of their leader reached the congregation.

While no outburst of grief came during the early hours of the evening, attacks of the temple openly sobbed and offered continued prayer for the safe return of Mrs. McPherson. However, when the announcement of the tragedy was first broken from the temple platform by Mrs. Kennedy, the congregation seemed to sob in unison, and heard from there many more efforts than those who appeared to have collapsed.

NEW PLUNGE IN VALUE OF FRANC MENACES BRIAND

Saint Faces Crisis With Attack on American Debt Settlement Certain in Parliament

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

PARIS, May 18.—The French franc, which has been falling steadily, slumped to a new low today and brought with it the start of a vigorous attack on the Briand Cabinet when the Senate reconvenes on the 27th inst. The franc, it is felt in most circles, is bearing the brunt of the general depression of European finances, and is being affected by the uncertain political situation everywhere.

Mrs. Kennedy said, "We have a vast amount of work ahead to clear it. Everything is tied up in this temple now."

LAND SALES AUTHORIZED
WASHINGTON, May 18.—Senate Naval Committee today reported favorable the House bill authorizing the transfer of lands held by the Navy for a debt settlement with France.

Andre Tardieu also is understood to oppose ratification. From present indications, it appears that Briand will have to bring to bear all of his resources to obtain a favorable vote on the accord.

AMERICAN BANKERS PRESENT THEIR VIEWS
[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, May 18.—The French and Belgian francs to the lowest prices in history, around 2.73 cents, today was attributed by American bankers to the continued flight of capital from France and the rise by the French francs on the exchange requirements of importers and exporters. A great deal of capital, since most brokers in New York and London neglected themselves in the hope of making profits out of a war between France and America, has been sent to the United States.

The stamp has caused a state of the French people that there is no real reason for.

French bankers are using all their own exchange and some in the market to buy francs short to the extent in the expectation of making profits out of a war between France and America.

OFFICIALS STAR IN PRISON QUIZIllinois Executives Called by Grand Jury*Investigations Involve Will and Cook Counties*Board of Pardons Ordered to Give Records

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE
CHICAGO, May 18.—The executives of the Illinois prison system have become the star witnesses in a special grand jury investigation in Cook and Will counties.

The grand jury investigating Chicago's state prisons, which culminated three weeks ago in the slaying of Assistant State's Attorney McGawigan, today subpoenaed Will Coivis and Chauncey L. Jenkins of

GARTERS RULED NOT CLOTHING

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE
SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—The court of customs appraisers was on record here today with the formal declaration that silk garters are not apparel. They are simply a combination of silk and India rubber, as contended by an importer, who won an appeal from a custom decision to collect 60 per cent duty on a shipment of fancy garters.

The Department of Public Welfare is to appear before it Thursday.

At the same time Warden Whitman, who tried to be held prison for the Cook county jail yesterday, hastened back to Joliet to take the stand before the Will county grand jury, whose inquiry heard after the conviction escaped and killed Deputy Warden Peter Klein in making their getaway.

Thus the two grand juries, working from dissociated episodes, are engaged in hearing almost identical evidence. Chicago is to throw light on the 100 gang slayings which have occurred since bootlegging became a crowded profession, and in Joliet to determine what conditions made possible the wholesale jail break.

The possibility of irregularities in the sale of prison-made furniture, already looked into by the Will county panel, became the subject of investigation by the Cook county grand jury.

The State Board of Pardons and Parole, headed by John J. O'Conor, was the State Director of Public Welfare, to produce all records of the Cook county jury.

Whitman denied yesterday that he had any intent of resigning.

OLD RUSSIAN FORT TO BE BUILT AGAINEarly Outpost in Alaska to be Restored by Club in Sitka

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH
WASHINGTON, May 18.—Plans for the restoration of a historic Russian blockhouse in Sitka National Monument, Alaska, have just been approved by the Department of the Interior. The blockhouse will be restored in its original dimensions and appearance and will be a pictorial addition to the monument.

This is the logical place for the restoration of the old Russian fort, for at the site of the Sitka Monument was the scene of several battles between the Russians and the Klik-Siti Indians during a period of two years. Finally, in 1804, the Russians, aided by the Aleuts, drove the Indians out of Alaska, which resulted in the complete subjugation of the Indians of Southeastern Alaska to Russian rule.

This paved the way for the other phases of the work by the United States. Had Russian supremacy failed early in the nineteenth century England's efforts to acquire the Territory would probably have been successful.

Within the monument are the graves of a Russian midshipman and six Russian sailors killed in battle and buried where they fell.

There also are sixteen ancient totem poles donated to the United States by the modern Indians of Southeastern Alaska, who felt that their old homes of their ancestors was a fitting place to preserve their totems.

This restoration work has been made possible through the action of the Alaska Historical Association and the Sitka Commercial Club, through which the necessary funds are being raised. There will be no cost to the government involved.

FEDERAL EMPLOYEES ABSENCE BILL PASSED

COMPLETION OF FARM BILL NEARDisputed Points of Haugen Measure Approved*Tincher Hurls Charges of "Vicious Lobbying"*Voting on Three Measures Expected This Week

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE
WASHINGTON, May 18.—House consideration of the Haugen Farm Bill for amendment neared completion today, with the most controversial sections approved, including the provision for an equalization fee on the sales of basic crops.

Without a record vote, the House selected a motion by Representative Newton, Republican, Minn., to strike the clause authorizing the State Board of Pardon and Parole, to produce all records of the Cook county jury.

It agreed, however, to an amendment by Representative John J. O'Conor, Democrat, Tex., to require the proposed Federal Farm Board to advertise for forty days its intention to levy the fee which could not be imposed if members of the farm organizations opposed it. The fee would be authorized immediately on wheat, corn, cattle, hogs and butter and after two years could be placed on cotton.

Representative Tincher, Republican, Kan., author of the Tincher Credit Bill, pending with the Haugen and the Curtis bills, finally made his proposal, hurried charges of "vicious lobbying" at delegates of farm organizations supporting the Haugen Bill. He said members of Congress were being bombarded with "lobbyists" by the "lobby" in Washington.

The Kansas member added that the recent amendments to the bill agreed to by Chairman Haugen of the Agriculture Committee, had been drawn up at a meeting to which he (Tincher) was not invited although Frank W. Murphy and George N. Peck, representing the American Farmers' League, were present.

"It is strange," asserted Mr. Tincher, who is a member of the Agriculture Committee, "that this action was taken by the committee, but instead by lobbyists."

Representative McLaughlin, Republican, Nebraska, defended Murphy, as well as Senator Gutzlaff, of the Farm Bureau Federation, from Mr. Tincher's charges of unfair lobbying.

He said Gray had a right to have petition presented to Congress, but it was wrong to call him a lobbyist. He also upheld Murphy's activities in pushing the Haugen Bill.

With the House taking up other business tomorrow, farm relief will be resumed Thursday. A vote on the three pending bills is expected before the weekend.

The Haugen Bill faces a staunch opponent in Senator Cummins, Republican, Iowa, who said after a call at the White House that it was not passed in Congress every need in sight. He did not say what he had in mind.

He later said that even if the House rejects the measure, he is hopeful of its adoption by the Senate as leader in the co-operative marketing bill, thus throwing it into conference with House action.

Farm relief lured up women to the Senate when Senator McNary, Republican, Oregon, declaring it must be considered at this session, held it a mistake for the House to act. Senator McMillan, Democrat, Tennessee, added that agricultural legislation is "the most important subject before Congress."

Hoff's Ridicules Complaint Filed by Norwegian Vaulter; Appeal Sent to Committee

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH
DANVILLE, May 18.—Charges of discrimination made in Los Angeles against the A.A.U. by Charles Hoff, Norse pole-vault record holder, were denied at the A.A.U. office here today. The organization had broken his agreement to complete the itinerary of appearances set out by the A.A.U., provided his expenses were paid. His failure to compete at San Francisco on May 8 without compensation was inevitable.

His telegram was made by Hoff and forwarded to William Frentz, president of the A.A.U. and secretary of the foreign relations committee. In haste, he accepted it, it was said, and a local headlined that the telegram and a circular pronouncing him unworthy to compete at San Francisco had been received.

TWO FAMED JOCKEYS INJURED AT JAMAICA

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE

NEW YORK, May 18.—Jockeys Madena and George Hudgings were injured in an accident in the first race at Jamaica today, when Madena's mount, Dream Daddy, stumbled at the top of the stretch and the field piled up behind.

They were rushed to the Emergency Hospital in the Bronx, where it was announced that their injuries were serious.

LITTLE did the late Hiram Conibear dream that the rowing principles which he instilled at the University of Washington would some day spread all over the United States and the man who learned and used his "system" at the great Pacific Northwest institution would be sought after as coaches by such universities as Yale, Harvard and Princeton.

Truly, the Washington stroke is riding the crest of the wave of popular favor at present, and the rowing principles of a man who never rowed himself out, but who had been a bicyclist and so knew that the leg is a more powerful engine than the arm and the heart, are being adopted now at the University of California, at Ann Arbor, at Pennsylvania, at Princeton, at Yale and, of course, at Washington.

Ed Leader, at Yale, is probably the best of all the disciples of Conibear. Closely pressing him for the honor is "Rusty" Callow, at Washington, whose varsity crew hadn't lost a race until the Poughkeepsie regatta last year.

Edgar, at the University of California, though beaten by Washington, will make his initial bow as a coach at the intercollegiate regatta next month.

The other Washingtonians who are acting as head coaches at eastern institutions for the first time this year are Bob Dill, at Cornell, and John Clegg Long (who was assistant to J. D. Spainish last year), at Princeton; and Fred Spuhns (who assisted at Harvard in 1925), at Pennsylvania.

FIFTEEN TROJANS TO GO

Faculty Athletic Committee Will Allow Cromwell to Select Team for I.C. 4 A. Meet

Fifteen Trojans will make up the team that Dean Cromwell takes to Boston to defend the national collegiate championship, now held by the local track-and-field artists. The faculty athletic committee of U.S.C. voted yesterday to permit Cromwell to take that number of men to the affair, it being the same that made the journey last season.

Cromwell will pick just fifteen men will go, but probably not until Friday. He has thirteen selected as "probables" to make the trip, while the two remaining will be selected from four hopefuls.

The thirteen are Capt. Bud Houser, Barnes, Dyer, Grimes, H. R. Ross, Coggeshall, House, Herrichelli, Nichols, Revere, Cook and Alekst. The four hopefuls are Ofstad, Parsons, Rulis and Koen.

Parsons and Koen will hold to date to aid in the determining the Parsons will clip off a 220 in company with Charlie Horrah.

The latter has orders to lead Parsons down the field, and to make Jimmy run his fastest. Parsons, it is believed, ran about 21.8 back of Borah last Saturday. The Parsons was won in 125 feet at Stanford.

Cromwell has dropped two men from the list of fourteen he took to Stanford and added one other.

Bruce Smith and Chinnie were the two dropped, and Alekst is the latest addition. Neither of the quarter-milers stood much chance of placing in the East, and as there was no relay in the big event, it would be more or less likely to take them.

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH
WASHINGTON, May 18.—Gen. Pershing will present the silver loving cup, which is to be awarded to the winner of the final meeting of the 1926 National Oratorical Contest, to be held in the Washington Auditorium on the evening of June 4. This award is in addition to the summer tour of Europe, which will be given to each of the seven national finalists. The club, which will automatically become members of the Constitution Club, which was organized by the 1925 finalists after the meeting last year. This organization includes the finalists in the year's contest, each member of the club receives an attractive shield-shaped gold pin on which are seven stars in a field of blue. The pin will be given to the finalists at a banquet in their honor in the home of Mr. John Hays Hammond, on the night after the contest.

ELABORATE PROGRAM
An elaborate entertainment program has been worked out for the final meeting, according to a statement by Mr. Vernon on the Sybil, the yacht of the Secretary of the Navy, an automobile tour of Washington, a visit to both houses of Congress, luncheons at the White House, luncheons at the Howard High School and the Hammond banquet. A number of finalists of 1925 and 1926, including Robert E. Lee, will be present. It is expected that the judges' challenges will prevent this year to greet the 1926 finalists.

The judges for the national competition will be Prof. Dr. Edward T. Butler and Sutherland, who will be seated in different parts of the Washington Auditorium, which has a seating capacity of approximately 8,000 persons. The judges will be so placed as to fairly test the ability of the speakers to make their addresses effective in any part of the large auditoriums in the country. The contestants will speak against a stop watch, the time limit being ten minutes.

TICKETS GIVEN OUT
The British, French, German, Italian, Mexican and Japanese are Contestants will occupy boxes at the meeting.

The distribution of tickets for the contest began Monday, and the demand bids fair to exceed the seating capacity of the auditorium by several thousand. The tickets are being distributed on an all-inclusive basis under an arrangement whereby special reservations are held for the delegations from cities at a distance from Washington. This plan is intended to protect ticket holders from outside cities from the possibility of being unable to get tickets to residents of Washington. The distribution of tickets in the contest in the different states are left to the discretion of the organizers.

Persons outside of Washington desiring tickets for this meeting should apply to the newspaper offices for the contest in their city. It will be impossible to take care of applications from the outside coming through other channels.

MATSON AND ASSOCIATES ACQUITTED

Judge Instructs Jury to Free San Francisco Trio on Larceny Charge

INT'L PRESS AND ASSOCIATED PRESS
SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—Walter J. Matson, former secretary of the Honolulu Plantation Company, and two associates, Ira N. Moore and George F. Braun, were acquitted today of charges of grand larceny at the conclusion of a jury trial in Superior Court. Judge Treat instructed the jury to bring in the verdict at the conclusion of the final arguments.

Previously Judge Treat had indicated that the evidence against the men did not appear to warrant a conviction. Matson, Braun and Moore were charged with the grand larceny of approximately $40,000 on the accounts of the plantation company and the Masonic By-Product Company, through the collection of such warehouse receipts. The defendants were said in the complaint to have arranged the supposedly illegal transfer of the property to the Honolulu Plantation Company, brokers, now defunct.

They denied the charge, stating that the supposed grand larceny was a perfectly legitimate bookkeeping transaction.

Catholic Conference Published Letter to Coolidge

Danger to America Found in Government's Acts

Kellogg to Seek Opportunity to Present Protests

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE

WASHINGTON, May 18.—The national Catholic welfare conference tonight made public a letter sent by its administrative committee to President Coolidge in which grave concern, distress and anxiety were expressed "because of the injury and the growing danger to our own country and to the international good will upon this hemisphere, caused by the present conduct of the government of Mexico."

It also made public a communication from Secretary Kellogg in which he said he would seek an opportunity "informally to bring the fact of your protest and other like protests to the attention of the Mexican Ambassador in Washington."

The committee's letter was dated April 27, last, and the secretary's

"There is no need," said the committee, "to reiterate the provisions of the present Mexican constitution which wipe out every vestige of religious liberty and duty to every priest or minister of the gospel, of any and every denomination, the inalienable rights of a free man."

The committee has been setting up on this continent of a government that explicitly denies the principles which we believe are the very life of our country. And the agents of that government of Mexico are disseminating those principles through the public press and through their own propaganda literature.

Political opponents of the old government have been driven into our own country, or have taken refuge therein. Their presence is not conducive to peace.

"We are conscious of the limitations of our influence as one government upon another, in the courtesies of diplomatic relations. We know and wish to give public appreciation of the constant effort which our government has taken to voice and advance the American principles whenever an opportunity presented itself."

"We know of the deep interest of the English and the other high officials in the movement of the individual cases that have been brought before you and of the measure within legitimate influence that you have taken to ameliorate the condition of American citizens who have suffered in Mexico from religious persecution. We petition a continuation of those good offices of your watchful interest."

The committee's letter was signed by Archbishop Hanna of San Francisco and Dowling of St. Paul, and Bishop Muldoon of Rockford, Bohemians of Cleveland, Gibbons of Milwaukee, Bishop of Harrisburg, and Lillis of Kansas City.

PAPAL NUNCIO CHARGED FRAME-UP

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE

LAREDO (Tex.) May 18.—Arriving here today from Mexico City, from which he was recalled on charges that he had lied when he entered Mexico, Archbishop George J. Caruana, Papal Nuncio, stated that he had obtained positive proof of the falsity of the charges against him.

"Now that I have reached American territory I am happy to state that I have another statement to add to those given to the press before my departure from Mexico City," said the archbishop.

"It is to the effect that I have obtained positive proof of the falsity of the charges against me by the Mexican government that I had made false declarations when I entered Mexico regarding my birth, my race and religion."

"In addition to the above, I stated that I was never even questioned regarding my birth, my race, my religion, that I handed over my passport and vaccination certificate with all data regarding myself."

"Ample proof of this has been obtained and now is in possession of the American Consul at Nuevo Laredo, Mex., who is reporting it to our government at Washington."

Archbishop Caruana expects to arrive in Washington Sunday.

MONEY ALLOTMENTS ON PARK ROADS GIVEN

TOTAL OF $675,500 WILL BE SPENT ON YOSEMITE HIGHWAYS ALONE

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

WASHINGTON, May 18.—The National Park Service has announced today that it contemplates a total expenditure of $675,500 for roads in Yosemite National Park during the coming fiscal year. Of this total $490,000 will be spent on roads allotted from the general road fund and contracts for new work cost $250,000 additional will be made, while $225,000 will be paid out of the park maintenance fund.

eral Grant parks will comprise principally improving and surfacing the present roads. A survey will be made of the proposed road

Gen. Grant Park will get $10,000 and Sequoia will receive $90,000 for all-road-work.

ITALY EVOLVES NEW LABOR IDEA

Fascism's System Designed to Solve Class War

Cabinet Approves Plan After Nearly Year's Study

Government to Control All Industrial Activities

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE

ROME, May 18.—Fascism's sys-

which is intended to sound the death knell of the strike and lock-

out, and which Premier Mussolini considers one of the most important of his government's contributions to modern statecraft,

was approved today by the Cabinet

after nearly a year's study.

The basic principle of the tremendously complicated system is the right and power of the government to control all industrial activities of the nation.

Under the system, the cabinet

will be responsible for the control of all classes of work-

Third, three national confederations

will be created for liaison purposes.

Fourth, an undetermined number of corporations are to be created as instruments of control by the ministry of corporations over the Association of Confederates.

STATE WORKERS RAYBURN

Federal State and public service

workers will be handled in special types of associations.

Sixth, all labor disputes must be submitted to compulsory arbitration.

Seventh, special courts for the settlement of labor disputes will be created, with an entirely new labor

code added to other legal provisions for the protection of workers.

Eighth, while setting up new machinery, for its purpose, the government reserves the absolute right to step in at any time

"for the protection of national interests."

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

ARMED GUARDS PATROL RANCH

Unusual Course Creates Interest Near Visalia

Persons Passing on Roads Halted at Nights

Thought Due to Menace of Water Pumps

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH
VITALIA, May 18.—Considerable interest has been aroused in this section over reports of armed guards who are said to be patrolling property of the Rancho De Kaweah, seven miles east of Visalia. The guards are said to be keeping and ascertaining identity of all persons passing along those rather isolated roads, especially if they appear to have no particular destination. Frequently, it is said to have been heard at night, but are believed to have been fired without any special purpose.

The guards are reported to have been stationed at the ranches of Lindsay—Strathmore Irrigation District. The Southern California Edison Company's substation which handles electrical energy for the thirty-five miles in operation on the Ranch De Kaweah, where Lindsay—Strathmore's main pumps are located, being especially closely guarded, it is said.

Locally, it is believed that action is the result of recent trouble along the Los Angeles Aqueduct, although so far as users of the Kaweah Delta water, who for years have been using the same, are more or less distant from diversions of the water, are concerned, there is no occasion for such extra precaution. However, it is said the Edison station was recently attacked and the guards were placed soon after.

He enlisted in 1861 and was discharged for disability in 1862. Funeral services will be conducted at Draper's chapel tomorrow at 3 p.m. with Rev. J. B. Toomay officiating. Burial will be in Belgrave Cemetery.

"The crop came from the orchard of Eugene Tharrn, and it was packed by Murray & Sawyer of the Poly packinghouse at Hanford. Cans weighing six pounds of the same variety have express in ice, refrigerator cars to Omaha, Neb., began today.

There is only a small acreage of the Newcastle variety, the earliest fruit out of this section, and it was reported $5 per box was realized.

Shipments of delicate "cots" picked ripe from the trees in semi-dry regions have become quite a feature of recent years, and it is estimated that 200 carloads of upward will go out of this county of Kings this season.

RABBIT-FUR CONCERN TO OPEN IN VALLEY

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE
GIRARD, May 18.—The establishment of a branch of the Golden West Fur Farms of Arcadia on an acre in the Walnut Acre Farm property in Valley, it is announced, is to be made before the end of the month. GLENDALE STUDENTS GRADUATE

Seventh Day Adventists' Academy Gives Diplomas to Twenty-two

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

GLENDALE, May 18.—The graduating class of the Glendale Union Academy, the Seventh Day Adventist school here, numbering twenty-two students, was presented with diplomas at ceremonies in the auditorium of the Glendale Union High School.

Alonzo Baker of Mountain View delivered the address to the graduates. Mr. Baker, taking as his topic the subject of "Ways and Courses and Don't Skid," warned the students against the danger of eschewing education or ceasing to study just because they may have come across a specified course of study in school.

The inflammation of the ego, he asserted, is another dangerous disease that can affect many boys and girls, and he warned them of mistaking the values of life, setting a higher value on material things than on things of the spirit.

The cornerstone was laid on September 16, 1872, by the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of California, and by the trustees of the San Buenaventura school district, William Hobson, architect and builder, the Order of Odd Fellows, the Town Council of the school, and the citizens of the community, according to a manuscript in the box.

Other contents included a copy of the charter and ordinances of the Lodge, a copy of the "Almanac and Signal," the only newspaper published here at the time, gold and silver coins of the United States, the working tools of a Master Mason, some coins of Santa Barbara and other State paper samples of the typical crops of the period, including barley, wheat, corn, buckwheat, flax seed, birdseed; bill heads of the firm doing business in the state; handfuls of almonds wrapped in tin foil; a sample of the $250 bond which formed the issue of $10,000 at 10 per cent by which the school was financed, and a bottle of 1862 vintage of California wine. This will form part of the private collection of G. Ferro, who owns the property where the building now stands.

An interesting index of the life of the period was revealed on the program for the ball which was held in the building of the school and which included quadrilles, polkas and schottisches.

Newspapers, Documents, Coins and Seeds Disclosed

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VENTURE, May 18.—After forty-four years of darkness a small tin box was uncovered by the workmen razing the Hill schoolhouse on Polk street and was opened before a crowd of interested spectators. Within was disclosed an assortment of relics representing the life of San Buenaventura half a century ago, before the time when there was a Venture county and this was a part of Santa Barbara.

The cornerstone was laid on September 16, 1872, by the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of California, and by the trustees of the San Buenaventura school district, William Hobson, architect and builder, the Order of Odd Fellows, the Town Council of the school, and the citizens of the community, according to a manuscript in the box.

CANTALOUPES MOVE RAPIDLY

Loadings to Date Far Ahead of Preceding Year

Orderly Marketing Should Bring Good Prices

Railroads Have Additional Equipment Available

With the movement of cantaloupes from the Imperial Valley well under way much earlier than usual and with prospects that the movement will continue in an orderly manner without the customary heavy peak periods, growers should receive a satisfactory price for their crop throughout the balance of the season, according to a statement made yesterday by officials of the California Vegetable Union.

All previous records for the first shipment of cantaloupes from the Imperial Valley were broken this year, when the first car was loaded on the last day of April, and was en route to market in 18 hours. The total movement to the 18th instant amounted to 1,842 cars as compared with total shipments of only sixty-six cars to the corresponding date last year. According to figures for loading in the valley yesterday number 861, as against a total of 1,000 cars loaded on the same day of 1925.

This year about 26,000 acres have been planted to cantaloupes in the Imperial Valley, an increase of 2,000 acres over the total of 28,000 acres planted in the preceding year.

While considerable damage from mildew, it is not expected that the crop this year will greatly exceed the total of 14,541 cars shipped in 1925, regardless of the amount of rain received.

It is expected that the movement from the Imperial Valley will be completed early in July this year, while the last car to move in 1925 was loaded on August 1.

The cantaloupe industry in the Imperial Valley has achieved the distinction of the most spectacular movement of fruit in the country, when perishability, volume and period of movement are considered. Growers, distributors, railroad officials and buyers figure in this achievement.

In the Valley, cantaloupes are shipped into every State in the Union, with New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Massachusetts and Connecticut as the chief markets.

Railroads operating in the valley have larger refrigerator car reserves at hand this year and other extra equipment and additional crews are available to move the crop as required.

Shipments of cantaloupes from the West Coast of Mexico began during April with the first car out from Ensenada on April 12. The total planting in the Yaqui Valley is reported to be approximately 1,000 acres.

PUBLIC WRONG IN MARKET

Famous Operator Always Did What People Asked; Applies to Industries at Darkest Time

BY EARL E. CROWE

Stock-market gossip these days consists of a mass of conflicting adjustments. On one side the traders are advised that stocks are going lower, and on the other the advice comes, principally from corporation executives, to look for the silver lining, hidden only temporarily by a few dark clouds. Bailed down, it all resolves into a difference of opinion over the point at which the bottom of the market will be reached.

QUOTATIONS FOR COTTON UNCHANGED

Market Rules Steadier as Rain Forecast Puts Check to Selling

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

NEW YORK, May 18.—The market was steadier today mainly on cloudy conditions developing over the Central and Western States in the cotton belt with forecasts of renewed local showers of an undesired character for the present status of the new-crop situation in Louisiana, Arkansas and Eastern Texas tonight and tomorrow.

This checked the further tendency of the local and southern trading centers to decline, the recent liquidation and hedge selling, with the result that the decline was arrested after prices had gone off 2 to 3 points to a minimum of 17 cents. October, July sold at 18.15 cents; October, 17.42 cents; December, 17.51 cents; January, 17.37 cents and March, 17.47 cents.

Early in the afternoon prices had worked up to an advance of 5 to 7 points over yesterday's closing for the next months and for the late July selling off 18.21 cents; October, 18.22 cents; and May, 17.82 cents. Trading was light during the late afternoon with prices little changed.

At 4:47 p.m. spot cotton was 2 more points from yesterday's selling to 18.20¢ for middling, with the day's sales 5000 bales and no receipts.

"I merely did what people wanted me to do," W. H. Read said. "I am not a gambler and I am not exactly clamoring and frantically bidding for stocks which I held. I accommodated them by letting them have my holdings. When they came extremely clamoring for a profit, I accommodated them again to straddle the fence and do nothing."

As the best indication that Europe has not returned to normal, American investment houses are still underwriting European bond issues and retelling them to American investors, J. C. Luitweller, president of Baker, Kellogg & Co., Inc., told Los Angeles investment dealers yesterday noon at a luncheon given by Blyth, Witter & Co. His firm specializes in foreign issues, with headquarters in New York and branch offices in the principal European and South American countries.

While he believes that the trend in Europe is unmistakably toward recovery and prosperity, Mr. Luitweller, explained that the United States is not yet in competition with the United States for sound investment securities. When capital is again ready for employment in the investment market, the dealers in this country will face competition for new issues, he said.

Of the countries that have recovered from the war, he said, named Switzerland, Sweden and Holland. These countries, he pointed out, are not coming across the Atlantic any more for large amounts of money, but are buying back the wholesale and continental bonds they sold to the United States a few years ago, and are even competing against the New York bankers for good investments in other countries.

"There are plenty of people who are claiming that all foreign investing and warning the unsoundness of the public's judgment," Mr. Luitweller added.

As a warning to the dealers of what increasing competition for foreign underwritings will mean to normal, he prophesied that the investment bankers will have to accept narrower profits. Unless this situation is accepted, the older London, Amsterdam and Switzerland will get the bulk of the business, in his opinion.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

NEW YORK, May 18.—Growth of the Illinois Power and Light Company and its subsidiaries in the last few years has been exceedingly rapid. Some idea of the additions, betterments and extensions made to this system may be had from the fact that more than $22,000,000 was expended for expansion during 1925 alone. This was more than twice the total earnings for the year before interest charges.

Earlier statements of company like Illinois Power, which are expanding at such a swift pace, seldom present a true picture of their capabilities. This, for example, is the case with the Illinois Power and Light Company, which has added more than twice the earnings for the year before interest charges.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

NEW YORK, May 18.—Renewed

weakness of the baking shares featured today's irregularly lower curb market. Continental Baking A broke nearly 5 points to 67 1-8 and the preferred sold off over a point to a new low at 9 1-5, despite the announcement of Chairman Barber that the directors do not meet to consider dividends until June 9, and that the subject has not yet been discussed by the board. No dividends have been paid or of dividends have been held responsible for the recent weakness of the baking issues.

The announcement of further gasoline price increases was disregarded as the oil shares most of the leading issues closing fractionally lower. Reports of another increase in crude oil output last week may have had some restraining effect on trading. Coal shares were heavy. Glen Alden losing a point. Motors were quiet with price changes narrow and irregular. Renewed weakness of the steel companies was evident. Company foreign, which touched a new low at 16. Public utilities drifted within narrow limits.

Deals in bonds covered a wide range. Issues generally were small and irregular. Consolidated Textile 6 1/2 and Shawshank 7s each dropped about a point to new low levels for the year.

Yesterdays' trading was spotty with what was the low, and both low and high were near the high. Sales are up.

NEW YORK BONDS

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE
NEW YORK, May 18.—Moderate improvement in the demand for seasoned investment bonds today failed to turn the market out of the narrow trading rut in which it had been drifting. Prices of domestic issues tended upward in the early dealings, but gains were not fully maintained, while relatively strong tendencies dominated the foreign field.

With French and Belgian currencies plunging to record low levels, the resistance of these bonds to selling pressure weakened perceptibly. Losses of 10 cents a point were recorded by some of the French obligations. Signs of renewed speculative selling appeared as the result of the unusual strength of the Paris Polish bonds also suffered another collapse, although they held slightly above the record low levels recently attained.

Movements of the Brazilian issues were closely watched in view of the forthcoming financing for this country, but the changes were limited. The market for the negotiations has reached a point which expect the new obligations to bear an interest rate of 6 1/4 per cent, considerably higher than obtained by Brazil in this market.

One of the features of trading in domestic corporation bonds was the lively rally on Warner Sugar Co., following the news that its bond offerings would be promptly met despite recent operating losses sustained by the company. The 1924 maturity advanced more than 10 points to 100 1/2, while the issue of 1941 recovered 3 points to above 88. Skelly and Sinclair led an upward movement in the oil and Phillips Flour gave a good display of independent strength.

Despite the slump in Chicago and Alton stocks to new low levels, the road bonds maintained a firm tone. The market for Missouri Pacific, Frisco and Nickel Plate issues attracted fresh buying.

Among the new offerings scheduled for tomorrow is an issue of $10,000,000 Westchester county, New York, 4 1/4 per cent bonds, priced to yield 8.85 to 4 per cent according to maturities ranging from 1929 to 1973.

FINDS HE'S NOT 'TWINS' PARENT

Wealthy Ice Cream Maker Year in Ignorance

Stipulation After Divorce Reveals Adoption

Lawrence Hughes Agrees to Relinquish Custody

How Lawrence Hughes, wealthy Los Angeles ice cream manufacturer, lived for more than a year under the apprehension that he was the father of twins, only to discover finally that the children were not his, has revealed yesterday in a Juvenile Court department of Superior Court, where an order to show cause on the custody of the babies was to have come up for hearing.

The unusual story centers about the children read like a chapter from a melodrama and is contained in a stipulation filed with Judge Keeley by attorneys representing Hughes and his wife, May Golden Hughes, whom he divorced last September.

In his divorce complaint Hughes set forth that the children, Jean Louise Hughes and Lawrence Hughes Jr., were twins and that he and Mrs. Hughes were their parents.

SENSATION SPRUNG

After Hughes was granted a decree and the custody of the children Mrs. Hughes created a sensation by filing an affidavit in which she declared that Hughes had been the father of the little ones. She declared that Lawrence was born March 4, 1925, in Brooklyn, and that Jean was born in New York City on April 15, 1925. Mrs. Hughes obtained the children from a private hospital in New York with the understanding that later she would adopt them.

In the meantime Hughes had photographic copies of birth

DEPUTY COLLECTOR NAMED

W. H. Archdeacon to Aid Internal Revenue Head Here; Reorganization as Economy Move Begun

W. H. Archdeacon, vice-president and treasurer of the Central Warehouse and Storage Company of Los Angeles and Pasadena, yesterday was appointed deputy collector of internal revenue by Collector Galen H. Welch. Archdeacon will have charge of public relations, formerly handled by Elliott Kelly, resigned, and in addition will handle bankruptcy investigations.

Archdeacon lives at 1161 Oakland avenue, Pasadena, and was formerly a director of the Pasadena Chamber of Commerce. From 1904 to 1905 he was associated with Postmaster-General Newell, who was vice-chairman of the Republican National Committee and publisher of the Indianapolis Journal.

Collector Welch and Chief Field Director James G. Lytle have just returned from a tour of inspection in the northern part of the district, preparatory to the reorganization of reorganization policy. Monday morning concerning methods of field procedure. It is planned to eliminate most of the division offices throughout the district.

Some of these offices, it is said, certificates filed in New York which give him and Mrs. Hughes to be the parents of the children.

Following his arrival to the mystery of the children's parentage, he filed a petition for adoption, signed an order making its provisions binding immediately.

Attorneys McCarthy, Banta and Nelson appeared for Hughes in the stipulation while Mrs. Hughes was represented by Attorneys Dakis, Walters and Mauk, and William M. Morse, Jr.

PUBLICITY TO BE DISCUSSED

Hughes and Mrs. Hughes also agreed that the divorce decree might stand but that Mrs. Hughes and Lela May Golden might adopt the children. It was stipulated that Hughes would assign all claim to the children to either of these parties upon the institution of adoption proceedings. In the meantime the children are to be temporarily in the custody of Mrs. Hughes.

Judge Keeley, who originated the stipulation, signed an order making its provisions binding immediately.

Now—the best shirt value of all time! INNOVATION SHIRTS $1.95

at all National Shirt Shops

THIS is undoubtedly the best shirt offering that Los Angeles has seen in many a day. It compares very favorably with the best previous offering of the National Shirt Shops and that means unusual value.

IT IS only through the efforts of our New York buying office that such an opportunity comes our way. It is most unusual even for this large organization with its enormous buying power to offer such shirts as these for only $1.95—and in the face of the fact that the shirts have heretofore always sold at higher prices.

THESE are all new—just here—and in a variety of good, new colorings and patterns. Collar-attached or collar-to-match styles.

THE INNOVATION collar is a SOFT collar that WILL NOT WRINKLE. It will hold its shape and freshness and will present the neat appearance of a laundered collar.

OUR best advice is that you do not delay to get a full summer supply while the present lot holds out.

PROFIT AND LOSS IN HER MARRIED LIFE

Mrs. Genivieve Currie

BRIDE FINDS TACITURNITY OBNOXIOUS

Brief Wedded Experience May Bring Her Alimony, and Then It May Not

Looking at it one way, of course, the twenty-one days between June 10 and July 1, 1925, showed a profit for Mrs. Genivieve Currie at the rate of $47.62 a day—that is, if she can collect the $1,000. But from another point of view the period was a total loss to her. It was during those days that she dwelt with Lawrence Currie and his wife, and Judge H. C. H. Barnes, who was married June 10 and separated July 1, after Currie had turned out to be a taciturn bear, she said.

"He would not let me go to San Diego with him and he scarcely spoke a word to me all the way," Mrs. Currie testified.

Conversely speaking, her married life was insolvent, she decided, and that was why they separated, according to her story. As a matter of salve, Judge Hahn awarded Mrs. Currie the sum of $1,000 in alimony, to be paid her at the rate of $100 a month.

"I don't know how it will go let there be no doubt he did not appear in the action so far, but it can't do any harm to have the order," Chandos Bush, counsel for Mrs. Currie, said to the court in explanation.

the writing business has become enormously profitable—for a favored few.

HOT COMPETITION

But as it has become more profitable, it has become harder to break into. Authors tell me that the competition is now terrible.

It is soft and easy money for the Big Names; but how do you get to be a Big Name?

TECHNIQUE

A noticeable change is that more technique is required of authors.

No modern author, for instance, could hope to write in the careless manner of Thackeray. When they filmed "Vanity Fair" they found that Thackeray was a hopeless guide to Thackeray. He had men smoking Havana cigars before there were any; had Rawdon Crawley wearing a mustache in an army uniform regulation required smooth lips, etc.

BUSINESS ZONING LOSSES

The intersection of Los Feliz Boulevard and Reservoir Drive, one of the entrances to Griffith Park, will remain as residence property, the Council yesterday adopting a report of its City Planning Commission opposite the city's business zoning. The vote was 14 to 1. Councilman Barnes, who is involved in the property involved is under condemnation for street widening purposes.

FRONK SENTENCE DELAYED

Pronouncement Postponed Pending New Trial Hearings; Two Face Long Prison Terms

Pronouncing of sentence upon J. K. Fronk, former Hollywood "financier," and L. A. Landon, banker, who were convicted by a jury on two counts each of embezzlement as a result of Fronk's asserted check kiting manipulations, yesterday was postponed until next Tuesday.

Upon the two counts shall run consecutively or concurrently.

Dap. Dist.-Atty. McCarter and Ryan, who prosecuted, presented evidence at the trial of the two men that Landon issued to Fronk cashiers' checks in return for fictitious orders cashable at the stores or in the products of the co-operative firms, and no prize or cashable are or have been awarded.

L The University of Texas has a copy of an arithmetic published in Mexico City in 1649 and the oldest of New World volumes of its kind now extant. At that time it was known that two and two made four, today this is a subject for argument.THREE'S AND SO ON Several first-class theater projects are either just completed or under way in Hollywood, representing investments of from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000. Some of these are for pictures and some for the spoken drama. They will bring the Hollywood section nearly up to Los Angeles as a production center. Combined they furnish real rivalry for New York. Los Angeles has become the home of original offerings and is prepared to supply the nation with its dramatic joys.THE MYSERI IDEA
At the age of 20 a Confederate veteran in Missouri is obtaining a divorce from his bride of eight weeks because the lady compels him to take a bath every week. She wants to keep him shamed up all the time and, as he is in the poultry business, he insists that the thing is simply impossible. Eight baths in two months is more than he can stand and so he is glad to give the lady $500 and a dozen fat hens to be rid of her. He may want his women clean, but they mustn't be too finicky about himself.NO ADVANCEMENT Under trade-union leadership the British becomes a shirker rather than a worker. Compared with American and German tanners in the same lines English production is away below standard. This is not because the Englishman is less efficient,
but because it is the policy of British labor leaders to pull down the output of the individual. It means more men and more jobs, but it keeps wages down if England is to compete for world trade. In this way the initiative of the individual worker is chilled forever.DEATH TO MALES
Inspired by propaganda there was a slaughter of more than 15,000 full-grown roosters in the State of Texas on May Day. The old argument was used that the rooster is not at all necessary in the average flock of poultry. Hens will lay better and often when the noisy and quarrelsome male is absent. The rooster also has the nasty habit of trying out his voice a dozen times in the dead of night and this is repugnant to sober burghers who crave their ration of sleep. The rooster has lost a lot of friends through his vocal exuberance.RATS
The common rat landed in this country about the time Americans were declaring their independence. According to Prof.
Donaldson of the Wistar Institute there is now at least one rat for every man, woman and child in the United States. One of the professor's assistants raised 2,800 rats from a single pair in sixteen months. He wanted to show that rats understand multiplication almost as well as the mathematician
who calculated that a single pair of rats
would in ten years produce 2,800,000,000, 000,000,000 offspring, provided all did their duty and none got caught.GETTING TOGETHER
The Young Women's Christian Association has removed its religious barriers and arranged to welcome all who care to affiliate. At the recent convention in Milwaukee, the constitutional requirement that members be of Protestant or evangelical faith was withdrawn and doors were opened to Catholics, Jews, Scientists, Unitarians or any other creed or group. The association has never been so broad in its min-istrations. It has worked to aid and improve all those who came within its reach and in extending further fellowship to them it is but increasing its own capacity for baptismal service.HAWAIIAN PYROTECHNICS
Mauna Loa and Kilauea are self-evident proofs that Mother Earth still has within her the fires of flaming youth.
Meanwhile the Carnegie Institution, the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey and the Engineering-Economic Foundation are trying to find out whether the eruptions are superficial or deep-seated. Some of their conclusions are that the granite crust of the earth is about thirty-five miles thick. Inside of this granite crust, they say, lies a crust of dark, olivine rocks, some 300 miles thick. There comes an 870-mile stratum of mixed rock and metal, surrounding 2,100 miles of red-hot lava.
And they think the core consists of molten meteors—that is, the nickel-iron stuff obtained by melting meteors. Other scientists say: "There's no heat at all in the core. Apparently, we shall have to do some digging before getting at the actual core."A FORLORN HOPE
International disarmament under existing conditions in Europe is at best a pleasant fiction. So long as dictators continue to govern about half the population of Europe the Preliminary Disarmament Conference will have only its labor for its pains. While the members cannot be disqualified for trying, their chances for success are about equal to that of a man who would attempt to irrigate a fifty-acre arable ranch with a sprinkler.While the peoples of Europe may be ready for a general reduction of armaments, several of the governments are not. Mu-solin needs a strong army and navy to keep representative government in Italy in check. Mustapha Kemal without his army would be about as useful to Turkey
as an automobile without an engine. Pilsudski, the Polish dictator, marched to power at the head of the Polish army, and his authority is supported by military force, not by popular suffrage. How the Bolsheviks would chuckle if their European neighbors would reduce their military forces to a point where 1,000,000 soviet troops could overrun half Europe!
Even Little Greece has a dictator as big in his pool as any of the others. France maintains a military force that has chased the Franco to cover; but military force is an idol of the French that not all the conferences in Christendom can dethrone.Reduction of armaments is a popular theory, but one that is confounded by existing conditions. The millennium of universal peace is not yet visible above the horizons of Europe. Each European people holds that reduction of armaments is an excellent plan for the neighbors to adopt,
but not suitable for home observance.
Count von Bernstorff is presenting weighty reasons for a general disarmament; but, in the midst of other mocking European powers, his argument is about as convincing
as that of the fox that had lost its tail.
Hindenburg sits in the seat of the Kaiser and counsels disarmament; but one wonders what his counsel would be if Germany's army and navy were not limited in size and equipment by the Treaty of Versailles.There has been no mental disarmament in Europe. The governments at least still think and speak in military terms. The only security they know is that of fortressed frontiers and standing armies. The Preliminary Disarmament Conference sets forth like the dove released from the ark;
and, like the first dove, it is destined to return, finding no place in dictator-ridden Europe to rest its weary wings.However, it is better in a laudable undertaking to have tried and failed than not to have tried at all. By sending an American delegation to the preliminary conference our government has shown its willingness to engage even in a forlorn hope with international peace as its objective.There is no disguising the fact that the Cabinet is wasting its substance in armaments.
Its attitude of armed neutrality is deadly to industry. Trade and commerce are crossing the Atlantic to make their headquarters in the two Americas. The eyes of the world are turning from the threatening skies of the Atlantic area to the peaceful, sunlit heavens of the Pacific. Security is indispensable to progress and industry; and the security maintained by brilliant fortresses and standing armies is fictitious and illusory.Security based on mutual faith and confidence can only be attained under representative government, and representative government has been receding in Europe during the last five years. The rule of the people is replaced by that of dictators, and military force is the means by which dictatorships are established and maintained.Europe is still subject to force, not to reason, and so long as that condition exists all attempts at mutual reduction of armaments will prove futile.COOLIDGE ON BUREAUCRACY
President Coolidge has set his face sternly against bureaucracy. In several addresses of late he has taken occasion to berate the insidious usurpation of authority which is always the outcome of bureaucratic rule, toward which we have been tending for the past few decades and which he holds in heavy and wholesome contempt.There has been no stronger expression of Executive disapproval of the acts of those obstructive and delaying bodies which are the bane of our political system than that uttered by the President in his address at the sesquicentennial celebration of the adoption by the Virginia Assembly of a resolution directing Virginia's delegation to the Continental Congress to support the Declaration of Independence. This celebration was held in William and Mary College, where the State Assembly met 150 years ago, and it was a fit occasion for the launching of an authoritative dictum against such a menace to our liberties as is seen in the acts of those governmental bodies which unjustly exercise and augment their official privileges. The President made it plain that he had been hampered by these boat-rockers long enough and that he would no longer tolerate their interference with Executive prerogative. Of this evil he said:"This was the answer of the students to the historic decision made in the Exclusion
Act and admirably fulfills the much-
needed committee on awards has been appointed.
Applications are open to native-born
Americans, men and women, between the ages of 25 and 35 years. The award will be given to the candidate who is regarded as the "best investment.""This was the answer of the students to
the historic decision made in the Exclusion
Act and admirably fulfills the much-
needed committee on awards has been appointed.
Applications are open to native-born
Americans, men and women, between the ages of 25 and 35 years. The award will be given to the candidate who is regarded as the "best investment."It is a new type of retaliation and may be loaded with considerable impact. To return good for evil may be a diplomacy which our politicians know little how to conduct.If Japan should really catch the spirit of lofty idealism America would soon be at her feet. There is something finer than mere machine guns with which to fight.Some people believe that the way to inhibit the earth is to have what is crazily called cheek. Put them into a crowd and they elbow their way to the front regardless of the rights of others.However, it is not just cheek, but the other cheek that makes men great.There is nothing that will take the starch out of a bullet like soft sand. Nothing will take the fire out of an enemy
like a soft answer. It is barely possible that nonresistance at times is the strongest form of resistance.When a messenger was sent from Lincoln to Stanton suggesting a change in the army
the Secretary of War snorted, "Tell Lincoln he is a fool."Upon reporting back to Lincoln, the great President replied, "Mr. Stanton is generally right—I will go and see him about it."Blessed are nations and refrigerators that keep cool, for they shall keep other things.

That too much authority has gone out of the hands of the President and his Cabinet is seen by the clashes that have resulted over the arbitrary acts of the Federal Trade Commission, Tariff Commission and Shipping Board, which independently working bodies have embarrassed him at times and have been a great source of irritation, as their obstructive and extravagant methods have prevented him from carrying out his policies, particularly that of retrenchment. As he truly says, bureaucracy, unless constantly resisted, breaks down representative government. The President directly represents the people,

but a bureaucrat represents nobody but itself
and yet makes bold to extend its authority, as the Chief Executive says, "over everybody," though "responsible to nobody."That such a system should have grafted itself upon our body politic seems strange, and yet when these bureaus and commissions were formed they seemed to be acceptable enough, and as unlikely to go beyond bounds as the chaplain or doorkeeper of the House. But that they have done so is as indisputable as it is regrettable.
However, this experience is but the repetition of bureaucratic history. Nearly every political economist of note has deplored that sort of rule. Bagehot in his "English Constitution" says "A bureaucracy is sure to think that its duty is to augment official power, official business and official numbers."The public is beginning to understand this, and it will call as a wise move President Coolidge's efforts to clip the wings of the bureaucrats, who seem to prefer to govern by rigid and arbitrary routine rather than common sense and seem to enjoy a perverse attitude out of harmony with the administration.THE OTHER CHECKJapan are turning the other cheek and have started a fund to send American students to Japan for study. Fifteen hundred dollars has already been secured and a committee on awards has been appointed.Applications are open to native-born Americans, men and women, between the ages of 25 and 35 years. The award will be given to the candidate who is regarded as the "best investment.""This was the answer of the students to

needed committee on awards has been appointed.

The pleasing light gray color of concrete pavement will dress up your street

Famous Streets in Los Angeles Carry Flood of Traffic

Los Angeles has more concrete streets than any other city in the country—a total of over 220 miles.

All of these streets are carrying a steadily increasing volume of traffic, and are doing so with very little maintenance.

Some of them are famous thoroughfares representing the most advanced type of paving construction.

They include Vine Street, "The Highway of the Movie Stars"; Franklin Avenue, one of Hollywood's fine residential streets; Cahuenga Avenue, the main artery leading into Los Angeles from the San Fernando Valley; and Hill Street from Washington to Santa Barbara Avenue.

Los Angeles is building more concrete streets every year. The latest of these is Pico Boulevard. This, when completed, will be from 34 to 68 feet wide throughout its entire length of seven miles.

It will pay other cities and towns to make a careful study of Los Angeles' advanced practice in permanent street paving.

Property owners and local authorities are invited to write to this office for the facts. Also ask for your copy of our free booklet on "Concrete Streets."

New zest for busy housewives!
It's Everywhere!

When you're hot and tired and household duties drag, just open the ice box and pour yourself a cool, bubbling, sparkling glass of White Rock Ginger Ale. It's wonderfully refreshing and reviving; like golden sunshine it drives away fatigue and gives new exhilaration and zest for the day's work.

White Rock is the aristocrat of Ginger Ales. Made from the famous White Rock Water, it is equally and deservedly popular with men, women and children.

Sold by grocers, delicatessen, drug and candy stores, and served at restaurants, soda fountains and hotels.

EGGS CARACAS

Scald a cupful of dried beef for a minute, then drain and chop fine; add a cupful of tomatoes, a quarter of a cupful of grated cheese; a few drops of onion juice, a piece of green pepper, chopped fine, and a bit of cayenne. Mix well, wrap in foil and cook in an omelet pan, stir in all the ingredients and when quite hot add three eggs well beaten, and cook like scrambled eggs.

BAKED POTATO AND SAUSAGE

Wash, well and scrub six fine potatoes. Dry and rub the skins over with a little grease. Then with an apple corer, make a hole lengthwise through the potatoes. Insert a sausage in each one, plus a small piece of bacon. Cook in a moderate oven. Two strips of fat bacon rolled together can be used instead of the sausage.

GRAPEFRUIT MARMALADE SALAD

Mix a jelly glas of the marmalade with grated fresh horseradish to taste; put it into a fancy jar on a platter. Garnish with hearts of lettuce, cut in quarters and dipped in French dressing.

ORANGE FOOL

Prepare a rich boiled custard by slowly heating a pint of milk in the double boiler, adding two well beaten eggs and two tablespoonfuls of sugar; stir until it thickens, remove from the fire and cover with a Julia cloth; one orange and grated yellow rind. While this is cooling, peel two oranges and, removing pits and every particle of white skin, make the pulp into small bits with a silver fork; sprinkle liberally with powdered sugar. To the cold custard add a half pint of sweetened whipped cream and turn it out into the frozen ring mold. When half frozen the prepared orange pulp and a small cupful of grated macaroon crumb; continue the pack in a melon mold. Unmold on a large platter decorating with stars of whipped cream pressed through a pastry tube and minced candied orange peel.

TONGUE, SPANISH SAUCE

Boil a fresh tongue an hour, skin well, carefully remove and boil again until tender in a soup stock, adding a cup of diced vegetables and a kitchen bouquet, a green pepper. Soak four slices of stale bread in water, then squeeze in a cloth and mash. Chop fine and pound two dozen walnuts; mix with the bread and fry until smooth, crisp and brown. Bring to a boil, then pour over the tongue, which has been placed on a hot platter.

SPANISH SAUCE

Cook fine a large onion and fry until light brown in butter; add three green peppers, chopped fine, and six cut up tomatoes; season

RANCHER HURT IN FALL RAPIDLY RECOVERING

H. Clay Needham, injured in a fall at his Newhall ranch recently, was removed to his home at 208 South Bonnie Brae street yesterday and is said to be recovering rapidly. Mr. Needham fell from the top of a water tank and rolled down a cliff, a distance of seventy-five feet, suffering concussion and bruises.

As a part of an annual celebration staged in the spring by members of Northwestern University all over the world, local alumni of the university will hold their candle-lighting ceremony tonight at the Windsor Tea Rooms in the Brack Ships, 1177 West Main street. Dinner will be served at 4:30 o'clock. Dr. R. B. Von Klein Smid, president of the University of Southern California, and a Northwestern alumnus, will be the speaker of the evening.

Diet and Health
By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

FAT IN SPOTS, AGAIN!
"If I diet, I lose flesh everywhere—but the legs, and they refuse to change a bit. I have to wear high shoes—made to order—and even then I have to wear dresses so long that I look as though I just came out of the Ark. There are just bunches of fat at the ankles that are really funny to look at. There is no condition causing it, so the M. D. says. I just seem to have it there. My face is thin, neck just right, but my arms are fat. Can you suggest anything to take the fat off?"

"I am a small eater, not fond of food particularly, and have studied diets so I know what to cut out of the fattening things. I never eat for company or other sweets. My greatest sins are beans and lots of water. I shall be eternally grateful if you can help me."

"R. E. It's no laughing matter, but no matter if you laugh. My dear R., how about your greatest sin on the bread side? Have you ever counted the calories in a slice of bread, or, of course, the butter you take every day? You don't necessarily have to be fond of sweets in order to gain in weight—but just get some exercise to overweight, you are going to annex them as fat. And excess bread and butter is the cause of overweight—nothing else!"

"Is there a tendency to fat in certain spots on your family? Family tendencies are undoubtedly involved. However, don't blame that!"

"Fat is not fattening. R. Your tendency to drink so much shows an attraction to starch and too concentrated foods. The fact that your arms are fat, too, is an indication that your troubles come from overeating.

"Unfortunate lumps on your ankles are fat tumors (and that may be possible) I believe that if you will go on a low-calorie diet—that is, low enough so that you will be compelled to go to furnish fuel for energy and heat—they will reduce. If the lumps are tumor masses, you can have them removed surgically. If they are ordinary fat, special exercise and massage directed to them."

A special exercise for fat legs and arms is that of twisting them in and out as hard as you can. You can do them in series of twenty-five, four times a day. Walking up and downstairs (walk instead of riding the elevator) and on the toes, especially the Charleston, are all good for fat ankles and legs. Any general exercise is good. Snug bandages on the ankles, applied at night, might help somewhat.

HAMBURG'S CHIEF LAUDS HOSPITALITY

Crew of German Cruiser Overwhelmed by Greeting in Los Angeles

That they've come among a friendly and hospitable people when they hit Los Angeles became abundantly apparent to the officers and naval cadets of the German cruiser Hahnburg, at the luncheon given in their honor by the Chamber of Commerce at Alexandria yesterday.

The luncheon was the first in Los Angeles of a series of entertainments arranged for the German navy men during their visit here. The Hahnburg reached the local port on Monday, this being the first American port touched since she started on her cruise around the world several weeks ago.

The meeting was presided over by D. F. McGarry, first vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Col. Max E. Socha, president of the German Cruiser who delivered the address of welcome in behalf of the city. Max E. Socha, editor of Germany, published in Los Angeles, welcomed the guests on behalf of the German living here.

Siegfried C. Hagen, German consul in Los Angeles, joined the other speakers in a welcome to his countrymen.

"As you go about the city during your visit here, bear in mind that Los Angeles hasn't been in existence more than seventy-five years," said Col. Socha. "The settlers who came here found this land a rocky desert. Work and will have turned it into what you see today."

Capt. Otto Gross, commander of the Hahnburg, made the closing address, in which he expressed his appreciation of his reception here. "If we live through the extensive tour, we will add to our humorously, 'we shall not only carry away many pleasant recollections of our Los Angeles visit, but we shall also carry word of our royal welcome to other places we may visit on this cruise."

Today the German navy men will visit some of the motion picture studios in the afternoon, and spend the afternoon in a sightseeing tour about the city. Tomorrow they will be taken on an automobile tour by the Chamber of Commerce and in the evening will be entertained at a banquet given by the local German Club at the Biltmore.

Pair Convicted on Charge of Selling Dope

Edwin Campbell and his wife, Vivian Campbell, were convicted yesterday before United States District Judge Barrington of sale and possession of fifteen ounces of morphine at Los Angeles Harbor. They will be sentenced Monday.

Testimony at the trial indicated Mrs. Campbell came here on an errand, married to old man first husband, from whom she was divorced, when he was ill in a hospital, and had written to Campbell in Honolulu and induced him to come here and aid her in drug smuggling. They were arrested April 17.

KHJ PRESENTS RARE PROGRAM

Twenty-three Artists Give Brilliant Broadcast

Stewart-Warner Trio Makes Initial Appearance

Playground Program Told During Noon Hour

BY PAUL SHEEDY

Twenty-three instruments and vocalists last night contributed to the evening of musical broadcast entertainment over the aerial of the Times station, with the latter portion of the musical entertainment shared by two excellent dance orchestras. The main concert period was opened at 8 p.m., when Frederick MacMurray, violin soloist, gave the opening number on his electric guitar, followed by ensemble renditions by the Silver String quintet and the Stewart-Warner trio, the latter making their first appearance before the KHJ microphone.

Two vocalists were featured on the broadcast. These were Donald Miner, tenor, who gave several spirited solos, and Mrs. Maxine Brown, soprano, who was highly praised for her offerings. Rosalyn Asner served as accompanist for Mrs. Breitwood, and also performed originally in the orchestra. At the conclusion of this portion of the evening's entertainment, Glenn Edmunds and his colleagues closed the show with a half hour of late dance hits followed by Hefner's Sunnyside Seven, who recently scored such a success in their debut over the tower studio.

Queen Titania and her Sandman took the lads and lasses of the twilight hour on a new journey through the wonders of the land of imagination. The program opened with a musical setting of the opening music by Louis F. Klein, the court musician, and several delightful contralto solos by Lenore Jones, the "Lullaby" singer. Prior to the winking out of the moon of the Radio Fairies, Charles Leslie Hill, the "Honey Boy," and Henriette Polard, "The Little Forgetful," had their winks checked by their youthful friends out in Radioland.

This evening period was followed by the talky talk of dogs. H. M. Robertson, manager of kennel authority of the Southwest, with the nightly Scripture lesson delivered by Alice M. Robertson of the Intercollegiate School of Religious Education.

The rapid extension of the work of the playground and recreation department of the city of Los Angeles was the theme of the program when Charles D. McRoy, newly appointed director of the

FLASHES MADE IN ALASKA

"TRAIL OF '98" TO BE MADE IN VARIED LOCATIONS

By Grace Kingsley

It is quite all settled that "The Trail of '98" Robert Service's story, which is to be made into a picture by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer with Clarence Brown as director, will be produced in Alaska. Already Al Rehbock has made a trip to Chilkoot Pass in search of locations.

Work on the picture is to be conducted during the summer months in production.

The territory to be covered by Brown and his company in making the production is a wide one, including locations from Mayville to California, and in North and South America, as well as in San Francisco; proceeding which later point the story trail its way to Skagway, through Chile, up the Amazon River, down the Parana, to Brazil, up the Amazon, across the Yukon River, through the rapids to Dawson. A feature of the picture will be the fire which destroyed Dawson in 1899.

The film is to be one of the big features for next year's output.

The latest development in preparation for the picture is the casting of the leading role in the story. The territory assistant, Charles Dorian, of files of San Francisco and Los Angeles newspapers of 1898 and 1899, with a view to discovering colorful incident, both in the way of drama and comedy, to introduce into the picture.

GRIFFITH'S FORMER STAR IN BIG LEAD

It now seems quite likely that Pauline Starke will play the lead feminine role in "Julie Verne's Island."

This girl, not yet definitely cast, but she seems the most logical choice, both from standpoint of acting ability and type. The role is that of a young girl who has been shipwrecked on the island.

The picture, which Metro-Goldwyn-Mayers are making in the Bahamas, where it is clear that the undersea photography made by J. E. Williamson promises to be beautiful.

Pauline Starke has had a most successful career in pictures during the past several years, and is considered one of the best actresses in the films.

Alice Joyce Stars East

Alice Joyce isn't going to come back to California, for a while, at least.

She is to stay in New York and play the role of the princess in "The Girl in the Corner."
